QUESTION: 1

What is oversubscription in the context of virtual libraries?

- A. more capacity allocated than physically installed
- B. more libraries created than currently licensed
- C. more virtual drives created than currently licensed
- D. more data streams than the library can process

Answer: A

QUESTION: 2

With the maximum number of supported nodes, running the VLS software version 3.x, how many arrays are supported in a VLS9000?

- A. 8
- B. 16
- C. 32
- D. 64

Answer: B

QUESTION: 3

What is an advantage of using the automigration feature of virtual library systems?

- A. The tapes are analyzed during backup to migrate all files. After the content is decoded, only those files are compared to the same files from the previous backup.
- B. It leverages object-level differencing code with a design centered on performance and scalability.
- C. The destination tapes are block-by-block copies of the source tapes and can easily be restored by any tape library to which the backup application has access.
- D. It delivers fastest restores from recently backed up data, maintains the complete most recent copy of backup data, but eliminates duplicate data in previous backups.

Answer: C

QUESTION: 4

What are advantages of having separate zones for disk storage systems and disk-to-disk backup systems in storage area networks? (Select two.)

- A. The physical and virtual tape controllers do not discover disk controllers.
- B. Administrative and management costs are lower.
- C. Tape multipathing functionality can be used to map the physical and virtual devices.
- D. There is less host access and improved target and LUN shifting.
- E. Performance is improved, due to dedicated HBAs for disk and tape access.

Answer: AE

QUESTION: 5

When would you opt to use an HP Data Protector environment with Advanced Backup to Disk licensing in conjunction with a virtual library system instead of a traditional backup-to-disk solution? (Select two.)

- A. when you want to use target-based compression
