Extract zip file

Save the zip file to a new directory.

Extract the contents of the zip file to a specific directory of your choice.

INSTALLATION FIRST TIME

Double click on the Install.exe and you will be prompted how you want to install the product.

By using the install.exe you are able to create shortcuts for the program, on your desktop and/or on your start menu.

With the install.exe you can also de-install these shortcuts.

If you want to use the software use the shortcuts created by the install.exe or double click on the executable of the product.

FIRST TIME USE

Before you can use the software you have to enter the license key and your email address.

TRIAL: There is a 1-Day Trial period. Enter in the email and password field 'Trial'. After the trial period you need to buy a license.

The product will ask for your email address (CAUTION: This must be the same email address which you have used to register the product).

The next step is to provide the License key which was sent to your email address.

If a proper key is entered with the matching email address the product is active.

Your license will never expire!
